Poster Printing

*Please talk with your mentor, supervisor, and/or instructor to find out if there are preferred locations or options for printing and if there are specific methods/process for payment. Also be sure to compare pricing BEFORE committing to printing.

- College of Arts and Sciences Computing center: Helpful pricing estimates provided on website.
  - NOTE: a few departments have their own poster printers – be sure to ask.
- Honors College students: Can apply to have the SCHC pay for poster printing through the Honors College Conference Presentation Grant (application at bottom of page). Apply ASAP as it can take up to 3 weeks for a response. Your poster does not need to be ready before applying.
- Capstone Scholars: to inquire about covering printing costs, email capstonescholars@sc.edu.
- College of Engineering and Computing: contact David Dohan, Helpdesk Manager and Dean's Staff IT Administrator
- School of Public Health: limited printing available. Check on costs and ask your mentor/supervisor about payment options and process.
- School of Medicine-Columbia: Must have permission from mentor.
- Printing Services: available to all students, all campuses; printing discounts available if poster is submitted VERY early. Contact Printing Services directly. Be sure to ask on pricing, cheapest material to print on (typically vinyl), and payment method.
- System campuses: A number of campuses have their own printing options or contracted services. Please talk with your mentor/supervisor for the appropriate option.
- There are also many off-campus printing options both on-line mail order that can be quite reasonably priced (even printing on fabric!) but planning ahead for shipping is essential. Plus many office supply and/or shipping stores can print posters. Compare pricing and services, but these can be excellent options.
