

Graduate Assistantship in Flute

The University of South Carolina School of Music has an enrollment of 500 music majors, with instruction offered by more than 50 faculty. More than 100 full- and part-time graduate assistants serve in a number of capacities school wide. The School is housed in a state-of-the-art music facility adjoining the Koger Center for the Arts. The University is located in the capital city, Columbia, a culturally vibrant metropolis that boasts a professional orchestra, ballet companies, theater companies and museums.

The Flute Graduate Assistant provides studio and class flute instruction to nonmusic majors and lower-division music students and provides administrative support to the flute studio. Responsibilities require up to 20 hours per week, and the nine-month stipend ranges up to $8,000 depending on degree status (tuition supplements may boost the total value of the position beyond $30,000).

To Apply

An audition is required and applicants must have been admitted into a degree program before full consideration of the assistantship application can be given. Priority is given to applicants who have submitted all application materials and completed the audition by February 28.
